POLICY GUIDELINES AND PRINCIPLES

AAPoly offers a variety of academic and non-academic support services to help students throughout their learning journey until the completion of their studies.

1. Initial student engagement support

- Orientation Program

During orientation, new students are informed about their visa conditions regarding course attendance and course progress and AAPoly's obligations to monitor course progress and to report to the regulatory bodies regarding international students who cannot achieve satisfactory course progress within their planned period of study. They are also briefed about the academic and non-academic support available to them and how to get access to.

- Accessibility and equity

AAPoly is committed to accessibility and equity for students with disabilities. The goal is to enable them to participate to the greatest possible extent and independently, in the academic and operational aspects of AAPoly. Resources will be provided at the appropriate level within the allocated budget to reasonably accommodate the needs of students with disabilities or make reasonable adjustments where student discloses any special needs that may affect their studies during admissions.

- Learning Support for English and Digital Literacy

AAPoly offers tailored support for students who may require support for improving English language or digital literacy. If a student has English language or digital literacy difficulties, either self-identified or referred by lecturers, the Coordinators and the Academic Dean will arrange English language or digital literacy support (as required) for the student as soon as practicable.

- Student Information Pack

As part of the orientation process, students are also provided with a Student Enrolment Pack via email. This pack serves as an initial guide equipping students with essential information about key College policies and resources that will support them throughout their studies in Australia. The information in the pack is maintained and updated regularly. Students are notified of all updates.

The Student Enrolment Pack includes the following:

- HE Student Handbook
- HE Study Guide
- Student Counselling Services Information
- Academic Calendar
- Computer Equipment and Facilities Usage Policy
- Fair Work Information
- College Management and Administration Personnels
- Student Learning Systems Manual
- College Floor Plan and Emergency Plans

2. Support for Academic Progression

AAPoly continuously monitors student progress and identifies students requiring support in their studies as early as possible.

- Early Identification of At-Risk Students

The Academic Team proactively identifies students who may be struggling academically. Once identified, these students receive targeted support including tutorials and mentoring, English language support to improve their reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills, reasonable adjustment and/or special consideration. AAPoly has a dedicated learning support officer to assist students with these services. Bookings can be made through the online booking system.

- Ongoing Monitoring and Intervention

Student progress is closely monitored throughout each study period. A student is alerted in writing if they have achieved unsatisfactory course progress. Detailed information on how student's progress is monitored and intervention procedures are outlined in the Student at Risk and Academic Support (HE) Policy and Procedure on the website as well as in the Student Handbook. Students are advised of this during orientation.

- Course Coordinator Booking

To facilitate ongoing support and communication, students are able to book appointments with the Course Coordinator using the online booking system available on the College website.

3. Additional Support

AAPoly's support services provide students with the opportunity to enhance their capacity to achieve success in an accessible and welcoming environment.

- IT Support

AAPoly provides IT support and facilities required for the course, including the Learning Management System (LMS). The IT team provides prompt support for Paradigm

(Student Management System), LMS, student email accounts, Wi-Fi, computer labs, and support related to online submissions.

- Student Wellbeing and Welfare Support

In regard to wellbeing and welfare support, students can access free and confidential counselling services at AAPoly. Such services include support related to health, safety, mental health, wellbeing, overcoming crisis situations or traumatic events or general living and studying in Australia. Further details on student wellbeing support services, access to counsellor and advice on personal matters are on counselling services page.

- Library and Information Resources Support

AAPoly provides library and information resources support for study skills such as researching, citations, referencing, and bibliographies. All students have access to AAPoly's online library that includes access to ebooks through Perlego, journal articles, case studies, and print books. Students can also email AAPoly's library and Information Resources Coordinator for individualised guidance in accessing suitable learning materials and resources, including research. The respective Course Coordinator also provides support for using Studiosity application and organises library workshops.

- Peer Support Program

AAPoly provides peer support program to mentor new students with first year transition. Further details on Peer Support Program page.
